

Support starts here for kinship caregivers.

Kinship caregivers welcome the children of relatives or friends into their home, providing full-time care when parents are unavailable or unable to be there for them. Taking on this challenge often requires emotional, financial, and logistical support. The KCRC is a lifeline for kinship caregivers, connecting them to the resources they need to keep the children in their care safe, healthy, nurtured, and loved.

